LOCAL NEWS.

WANTED.—Apache County General Fund Warrants for which I will pay the highest cash price.
E. H. HILLER,
Phoenix, Arizona.

Every legal Mexican vote should be counted. No more.

Don't forget the "People's Ticket" meeting Friday night.

Look out, neighboring counties, the nests of Apache county's rustlers are being evacuated.

Advices from every precinct state that the Winslow ticket is overwhelmingly ahead every where.

They register by families at Concho-square, spouses and all—Equal Rights even for women and children.

Life will soon be safer and property more valuable in Apache county. So much for reform and the ballot box.

Mark A. Smith is democratic candidate for Delegate to Congress. Don't forget this in making out your ticket.

Breed, Adamson and Hogue will see that the much needed reforms in our territorial statutes are accomplished.

Charles M. Strauss is democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. See that his name is on your ticket when you vote.

We learn that a nest of rustlers in southern Apache county are rabidly opposed to Owens. To be sure, significant, significant!

Sister Milner took her reticule and crocheting last Monday and went out to tickle those naughty men with her chin.

COMMENDATION.—Why is John B. Milner like Sampson? Answer.—Because he slaughters his enemies with a jaw-bone.

Five hundred and thirteen Mexican voters in Apache county, are there? Oh, no, Milner, Hubbell & Co. Oh, no! We'll count at the proper time and see.

Sister Milner's democracy flourishes with the richest luxuriance, but an early November frost will nip the tender buds of his equal rights crop.

Hubbell's little anti-Mormon tree, though but two years old, is bearing a big crop. But then there are lots of other trees in his orchard that are doing the same thing.

The best men of the county are ready to become trustees upon the official bonds of Owens and Lesueur. This looks like faith in the efficiency and fidelity of the Winslow nominees.

Under the administration of A. V. Greer, the next tax assessor of Apache county, the assessed property valuation will increase $100,000. Efficiency is needed in this office.

The Winslow platform assures Apache county that its debt will be funded. This matter should be placed in the hands of men who will see that the outstanding forged county warrants are produced, sifted out and destroyed. No fraudulent warrant should be paid and will not.

Voters read the names on the Winslow ticket. They speak for themselves and if you can't vote for them never again prattle about wrong doing and reform in this county.

You have been crying aloud "turn the rascals out." Now that you have the opportunity, we are going to see if you will do it. Prove your faith by your works.

Falseness and thievery abound in Apache county, but there is not enough of either or both to defeat C. P. Owens. Slanders uttered against him are traced in every instance, to the lips of thieves but they are merely the death-rattle in the throat of expiring iniquity.

Milner claims he has made one hundred and fifty poselytes among the Mormons. We don't believe a word of it. If any number of citizens vote that Mongrel black and tan ticket, there is no use of talking about honesty, a square election and fair count in Apache County hereafter.

Joe Crosby made his little speech on the 30th and got so eternally mixed up with equal rights and other people's rights that he quoted Bible stories from the Third Reader, and told the people that Solomon had commanded him always to go "the whole hog or none." This he said was equal rights.

It is natural and most surprising that the Spanish voter, by reason of race preference, should favor J. L. Hubbell, but in many instances watch the eye, the pocket, the stable, the sheep fold and cattle herd of the American who opposed C. P. Owens. Keep an eye on his movements and his branding iron.

"A tree is known by its fruits," said J. L. Hubbell in a late speech. That's mighty good gospel, Lorenzo, and that's what's the matter with Hubbell. The fruit crop produced by the Sheriffalty tree for the last two years indicates that seedling needs pruning and fertilizing. C. P. Owens is mighty good at this business.

In a recent harangue John B. Milner complained to his audience that he had been exempt from that "spanking" which his comrade, J. L. Hubbell, has received during the pending campaign. So its a "spank" you're hankering after, Sister Milner, is it? Just wait, have patience, there is a great big number three hundred "spank" waiting for you on the 2d prox.

We are indebted to Patrick Hamilton, Commissioner of Immigration, for a neat and handsomely illustrated pamphlet setting forth the advantages of Arizona as a field for homes, health and investments. The research, and care bestowed reflect credit upon the able author and the book will command profitable attention at home and abroad. Accept thanks for the courtesy.

Harris Baldwin, the candidate for District Attorney on the Winslow ticket, has no opposition and C. P. Owens, the candidate for Sheriff on the same ticket has but little.

Reform is staking all and everything on this team. We make the assertion that these two men will make the fur fly all over Apache county in every spot where crime exists. "The day of our redemption draweth nigh."

The voters of Apache county are not deluded by those slanders which the emissaries of crime are endeavoring to circulate concerning C. P. Owens. The delegates to the Winslow Convention mean business, they were men of deliberation, intelligence, prudence, reflection and saturated with the wish to redeem this county from the infamy which through official misconduct, has over-reached and disgraced it. Those delegates have wrought well and nobly and no tree of calumny, voiced by the imps of iniquity in this county, will dissuade the voter from electing the man whom the Winslow Convention said is worthy of honor, is worthy of trust, because of his wish and ability to regenerate and disenthrall from impending disaster the best and highest interests of the people. Vote for C. P. Owens, the Winslow delegates knew their business and duty.

On the 4th day of October 1886, a convention was held at the town of Winslow in this county for the purpose of renominating a set of officers to be voted for by the people on the 2nd day of November 1886 and who, if elected, shall serve the people of Apache County during the years of 1887 and 1888. Many characteristics were observable in that convention which entitled it and its work to the confidence and respect of the voters of the county. Conspicuous among its features was the harmony and unity of purpose and action which pervaded its whole history, a unanimity of thought and intention which demonstrated the crying existence of evils to be corrected and good to be accomplished. Timely notice of such convention was disseminated by the press of the county and delegates, representing the best element of every faction in the county, were chosen by the several precincts to represent that spirit of progress and reform which has its home among the people. Political party creed was ignored, factional animosity was forgotten and race preference lost itself in the spirit of county reformation. All manner of strife, from whatever source it may have heretofore arisen, was buried under the irresistible avalanche of the peoples resolve to redeem Apache County from the official abuses which have stifled its prosperity in the part and their solemn determination, as one man, to resurrect the public interests, if the whole power of the peo-can do it. The work of that convention is known to the people and they deserve a perpetuation of the county's shame if they fail to endorse that work at the ballot box.

John B. Milner said in his speech of October 30th that the object of the "Equal Rights" was to secure equal representation from the three factions who compose the voters of Apache County. In furtherance of this scheme, he says, his "Mass Meeting" selected the best men from the Mormons, Gentiles, and Mexicans, and John B. Milner and Joseph Crosby were the choice as the best Mormons. Will the Mormons agree to this? Do or can they endorse Milner and Crosby as their best men? Milner said they selected the best men, and he and Crosby were the choice. Is Crosby a better man than John T. Lesueur?

Tell us how many Mormons were present at the "Mass Meeting?" Let them all answer. Why did the meeting not endorse John T. Lesueur? The whole business was fixed up by Milner, Crosby and Hubbell, and they don't care a cent for Mormon, Gentile, Mexican or anybody else, if that illustrious trinity can be elected. We believe that Thos. Perez, Jose Garcia, Alejandro Peralto and a few other Mexicans stand just about as well as Mr. Hubbell, are equally as strong with their own nationality and much stronger outside, and yet Mr. Hubbell is chosen as the best man among the Mexicans.

We don't believe Milner and Crosby are the best men among the Mormons, and we do not even believe they are representative men. We have too much respect for the large Mormon population of Apache County to think so. We do know that Lesueur and A. V. Greer would be first class representative men among any people, and we are going to stick by them until the end of the canvass.

Hon. Mark A. Smith and Charles M. Strauss Esq, nominees of the Democratic Territorial Convention at Tucson were in St. Johns on last Sunday and Monday to fill an appointment in their canvass. A large gathering of voters assembled at the Court House to hear the gentlemen discuss the issues of the campaign. Harris Baldwin, Esq, acting as chairman, first introduced Hon. Mark A. Smith, Democratic Candidate for Delegate to Congress, who briefly outlined the necessities for national legislation relating to the Territory, the rights and wants which should be asked of the general government in behalf of the territory, and the duties and qualifications of a territorial delegate. He favored hydrographic survey of the territory and an appropriation to test the feasibility of sinking artesian wells to reclaim the arid deserts of the territory, a reduction of the area contained in Indian Reservations, so as to reduce the homestead rights of the Indians to a limit not exceeding that of citizens and bona fide settlers; he advocated the opening of this surplus portion of the reservation to settlement; a survey of lands so as to bring about confirmation of territorial titles, and opposed confirmation of large land grants to the injury of actual settlers. Mr. Smith is a lawyer of ripe experience and an intelligent observer of territorial necessities. His views were expressive of what the people most need and desire for the territory, and Apache county will not fail to contribute her share in his election.

Charles M. Strauss, Democratic candidate, for Superintendent of Public Instruction, was then introduced, and he entertained his audience in a brief address, reciting the duties and necessities of public education, his own zealous interest in the cause and a determination if elected to protect and foster these vital popular interests.

Mr. Strauss was evidently selected for the position upon the principle of the fitness of things, and his hearers by the respect and attention shown him endorsed the intelligent judgment shown in his nomination. He will have practically no opposition in Apache.

Local speakers followed the candidates, and the meeting finally adjourned with Smith and Strauss almost unanimously.

$1,500

REWARD!

On last February, we lost seven hundred Merino sheep, from near Pleasant Valley Tonto Basin, Arizona.

Said sheep were stolen from the range and supposed to have been driven in the direction of St. Johns, Arizona.

They were of various marks as follows:

1st, An over half crop in the right ear, and an over slope in the left for ewes, and the same mark reversed for wethers.

2d, A swallow fork in the left ear and an over slope in the right for ewes and the same mark reversed for wethers.

3d, Two splits in the right ear for ewes.

We will give $1,500 for the arrest and conviction of the thieves and return of the sheep or $500 for information which will convict the thieves and $500 for information leading to the whereabouts of the sheep.
